FLOOR DEBATE

LB 851

was one of the main things that the people from Bellevue wanted. If we don't incorporate...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute.

SENATOR BOURNE: ...those growth areas, what's going to happen is, before the next ten year census, you're going to have a significant portion of Papillion and a significant portion of Bellevue in different Congressional districts. That's wrong. That's just plain wrong. Again, if you look at the committee amendment that the committee adopted, it's concise it's contiguous, it's clear. There's no question in a voter's mind who would represent them. There's no pockets, there's no gerrymandering, there's no strange lines that cast doubt on the entire process. I support the bracket motion, and I think that we need to rethink what we did yesterday, because we have totally violated the community of interests down there in Sarpy County, particularly in Papillion and Bellevue. Thank you.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Byars.

SENATOR BYARS: Thank you, Mr Speaker. We were acting a little slowly yesterday to the steamroller that was kind of coming down the road. And I don't think we did have an opportunity to get a number of issues on the table, if they make a difference. I'm not sure. You know, I'm not sensing in this body that anybody truly is listening to logical arguments. I think it has gone past that, and that concerns me. Because I think it's very, very clear within the legislative resolution, and with every Supreme Court decision that's been handed down, that the political affiliations should have nothing to do with redistricting. We all know that's not the case. But that's what's supposed to happen. Very emphatic points were made by both Senator Quandahl and Senator Bruning before we had a chance to vote yesterday, about zero deviation being the prime direction that the courts looked at when determining appropriateness of redistricting on Congressional districts. And I certainly would challenge that. The law that Senator Bruning quoted, I think is old law. I would like to ask Senator Quandahl a question, if he would respond please.
